Judge D. H. Pinney is again in Phoenix, drawn here by the land suit now pending. The Judge is now located in the practice of his profession at Chicago, and is prospering well. It seemed yesterday somewhat curious to see him arguing a case before the District Court, a Court over which he had so ably pre-sided for a number of years.

Another Cattle Sale.

Ellison & Gatlin have purchased 500 head of beef steers from Messrs. Sheridan and Eyster, whose ranges are located on the Verde, near the mouth of Deadman creek. The purchasers ex-press the intention of driving the cattle over the Reno mountain road and across corn fed for several months before being placed on the Kansas City market. It is claimed that freight rates from Winslow are but half what they are from Phonix and that as the feed is good at this season all along the line of the drive, the steers will even improve in condition on the journey.

The County Jail has now the following immates: Jefferson Wilson, under sentence of death; three negroes indicted for murder, one negro witness; Charles Ellis, serving twenty-five days for carrying deadly weapon, and two Mexicans under sentence for misdemeanors.

In the Probate Court yesterday an order was made reciting that, whereas an application had been made for the issuance to Eva May Marlow and Oscar L. Gibbs of letters of administration in the estate of George Marlow, deceased, and whereas the said application had been opposed by Charles Goldman, who solicited the issuance of similar letters to himself, the Court sets Saturday July 19 as the time for the hearing.

On one side of the outer stick is a small oval mirror set above a little black satin bag as round and only a trifle larger than a French franc. It contains a morsel of a powder putf. In an unsuspected crevice behind the mirror are three hairpins. On the proposite side of the fan a clasp holds in place a wee pencil, glove-buttoner and folding scissors, and in a groove are stuck half a dozen pins, while a miniature vinaignette is stowed away at the contained to the proposed by Charles Goldman, who solicited the issuance of similar letters to himself, the Court sets Saturday July 19 as the time for the hearing.
